NOTICED . . . along the way

THAT

This is the first of March and it came in like a lamb. In fact it was such a lovely morning that it seemed more like the 21st of March—the first day of spring. A quick, if somewhat sheepish, look around the garden, especially in many sheltered spots, provided ample evidence that nature has been getting busy for a very early spring.

Resides being the first of March, this is also St. David's Day and all true Welshmen (and some Scots) joined in the spirit of the occasion.

There's an interesting caption on a story in last night's issue of the "out-of-town" press. . . . It reads: "82000 claim for loss of eye in bottle blast!" Must have contained potent stuff, mustn't it.

Ward Chisholm of Kent Cleaners says he is kind of interested in knowing a little more about the "Ides of March" . . . And that makes two with a thirst for knowledge on this subject. When better place to turn for enlightenment than "The Old Farmer's Almanac?" Opening it at page 15, these lines were found opposite the 15th day of March: "The Ides begin you can't win, beware of Old Cidell!" Set that one out if you can.

Even though the almanac wasn't too helpful in deciding the less, it does contain an interesting bit of verse which reads like this:

"Now turn the year, with equinox, another beat in the deep pulse of time. And why are we everlast: Why now, and why tomorrow?" Why triumph and defeat?

Why sun and stars and earth? Why human soul laid bare?

See the bud, the bloom, the pregnant seed again. The spawning trout, the hatching egg, the fawning deer. And man, man knowing love and hate and joy and pain.

The whys and answers to be read. Thus turns the year."

Filtration plant sales drop sharply

"The recent mild spell, along with rain, has apparently gone a long way towards solving the water shortage problem which has plagued the area most of the winter.

A report from the town's filtration plant today states that sales of water to tank truckers have taken a very big drop. The present traffic in water trucking is a far cry from a few weeks ago when Water Superintendent Bob Reynolds told the regular meeting of the Water Commission that selling water to tank truckers was getting to be a big business. He stated that the commission had received applications for licenses to handle up to 5000 gallon capacity, and many truckers were using 1000 gallon trucks.

As the winter progressed, the volume of business for trucking water has steadily risen. The report today from the filtration plant is the first indication for many weeks that district farmers are now finding more water available on their property, and do not need to buy so much.

Matters of Interest

DISASTER'S MANY HUES
 There are many shades of meaning associated with disaster: calamity, misfortune, damage, adversity, ruin, distress, affliction, desolation, blow, catastrophe, to cite a few. Misadventure, setback, wreck, casualties, to cite a few of them.

These various forms undoubtedly conjure up varying images to the individual, although the parish may vary upon the line of meaning inherent in each word.

To the Canadian Red Cross Disaster Services, however, the term disaster encompasses all, for the Red Cross the disaster is whether the disaster proves to be catastrophic in the ultimate sense of finality or to a lesser degree of a mishap—both in the human sense there is actually no such thing as a minor disaster.

That which is a major disaster to the individual, when he loses all his physical possessions, or even when he loses all of his myriad fires which plague the community and the nation each and every year, may appear as nothing more than another tragedy in the cold, unemotional, statistical tables.

But to the hapless victim in the community the disaster is, to say the least, particularly and personally vivid. To the Red Cross in the community it is also very real, for the Red Cross is an organization of neighbors helping neighbors.

—The Red Cross Society—

Remember WAY BACK WHEN

March 1, 1911
 The morning a rather serious wreck occurred on the G. T. R. cars, two cars being put out of commission. "A Post" reporter endeavored to obtain information from the cause but the men interviewed were as dumb as the proverbial oxen. It seems, however, that an engine was churning the box car when it collided with a baggage coach with great force. The coach telescoped the boxcar and both toppled over leaving their trucks on the track. The engine was uninjured but the two cars were completely wrecked.

Here is an ad which appeared in the Post on this date under the caption of STRAYED. Cow strayed away from the market on Saturday evening. Had a rope on her horns. Any information regarding her whereabouts will be suitably rewarded at this office.

March 1, 1936
 Said Bernstein, of Haliburton, in a short interview with "The Post" stated that he was returning to his home after having spent a week in Toronto interviewing the Queen's Park authorities relative to the conditions of the roads in Haliburton County. Mr. Bernstein presented to the government a petition signed by many interested parties of the north requesting that crushed stone be used to surface the Mendenhall-Haliburton highway. While this type of surface was not promised Mr. Bernstein stated that officials assured him that calcium chloride would be used on the highway by day as soon as the frost was gone and that work would be supplied to a large number of men.

The Human Mind and Body

By Peter J. Steinhorn, M.D.
 F.A.C.P.
 STOP KILLING YOURSELF

IT SEEMS TO ME
 Dear Dr. Steinhorn: My husband signed a two year contract last year at a ridiculous low figure because his firm promised he would be getting more as his sales increased. He came through on his promise but he would be getting more as his sales increased. He came through on his promise but he would be getting more as his sales increased. He came through on his promise but he would be getting more as his sales increased.

ANSWER: As I see it, all the man can do is take an occasional sedative or tranquilizer until his contract is fulfilled. After all he is only bound for another year or so, and can make his move when the present agreement expires.

Many patients have come to me with similar complaints. I find that such needless firms are their own worst enemies and usually end in failure. They can't possibly succeed where the people who work for them (and give their best) are discontented and feel cheated.

I realize I am not being a lawyer, that your husband's only recourse is to conserve his strength until he makes other connections. If it will make him feel any better, tell him that he has a lot of company.

Many apparently successful companies flagrantly violate the principle that a good man deserves good pay.

Not long ago, teeth and tonsils were being removed "wholesale." When a patient complained of rheumatic pains, teeth and tonsils were immediately supplied and removed. Unfortunately, many years later, we realize that these so called "focal" infections were not always the cause of trouble.

But the pendulum has swung too far. Nowadays, we should not overlook the possibility that a bad tooth, for instance, may be the culprit.

It seems to me to a woman who swears that her arthritis was completely cured after her dentist removed two infected teeth.

I have said that a terrible outburst of anger is like the swish of a dragon's tail. The secret is to contain it before it becomes explosive and causes

This laughing, happy child bubbles over with affection for people who truly like him. David can also be really stubborn and needs to be handled with a firm hand. NOTICED... along the way

Everyone loves an auction sale... or, nearly so, especially if they have a few loose dollars in their pocket and a penchant for collecting odds and ends, antique furniture, old clocks, oil lamps, chandeliers, or what-have-you.

These events, like the housewren auction, are among the few things which have never lost their popularity in a changing world. Just about the word "auction" and those who are ardent auction-goers will find an ear to find where it's going to be held.

Ask anyone who attends an auction sale why they are so keen on them and they probably would be at a loss to explain... It's just in their blood, the excitement of the thing, perhaps the fact that they are, or can be, a living part of the affair. These sales give them a chance to spend out, to raise the hands and probably the first one since they left school and to indulge in some lively competitive bidding.

There are many people, however, who really like to attend auction sales but for various reasons they can't make it. This is especially true of the excitement of the office and factories and where they are so full of the business of making a living that they just can't get away to auctions which are frequently held during the afternoon.

The Lindsay Kinsmen Club recognized this fact several years ago and came up with the idea of holding a "radio auction sale". This is an auction sale with a difference. Instead of the buyer having to stand around outside waiting for the article-of-his-year to come under the hammer, he can be at his desk, at his home, or in his car still safe part in the bidding... All they have to do listen to their radio (in this case it must tuned to CKLY Lindsay) and when a desired article comes on the block, phone in their bid.

This is where the housewren newspaper fits in with the popular pattern... The bidders-to-be have to wait until the auction begins to find out what's going to be offered... The bidders-to-be have to wait until the auction begins to find out what's going to be offered... The bidders-to-be have to wait until the auction begins to find out what's going to be offered...

According to the Kinsmen Club radio auction co-chairman Murray Davis and Stewart Moore, this year's sale will be different... everything goes to the highest bidder... no reserve bid on any article. She's wide open... but you're still got to bid to buy.

This is the housewren paper to read from now until auction time. The "radio auction sale" is a "radio auction sale" news... Read all about it in succeeding editions!

Welfare chairman gives council town's version of relief story

Flag dedicated at service

Osmen (PNS) — Local Scout, Cult, Guides and Brownies with their leaders, attended a service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Wednesday, March 27, to dedicate a flag.

The story in this paper described a family of four who were getting $14.00 a week allowance for two weeks and $10.00 full allowance for the rest of March. The man had been unemployed for two weeks and the woman had been unemployed for two weeks.

Mr. Neil told council that the man had agreed to pay the bill for the welfare office. He said the welfare office had been receiving out of his first compensation cheque. He said that Welfare Administrator P. Williamson also had to calculate the amount of the compensation cheque. He said that the man would still be getting compensation and the wife was drawing unemployment insurance.

Flouride Fiasco

Feels people should have chance to make up own minds on issue

Mayor Joseph Holton of Lindsay says that if flouride treatment of water came before Lindsay town council, he would be in favour of putting it to the town residents in a referendum. The mayor was quick to point out, though, that municipal councils to pass a

NOTICED . . . along the way

A bird in the hand is worth seven in the air . . . At least that's probably the way a thief in Brentwood England, is feeling after seeing part of his loot go up in the air. Seven of the 23 ransom pigeons he pilfered have already flown back home . . . Wonder if that news release read right? . . . Sounds as if these birds had more common than racing instincts. Of course there's always the chance they read home which would make them racing-homing pigeons. In any event it's a switch from the old saw about "a bird in the hand being worth two in the bush" . . . Anything for a change which is supposed to be as good as a rest.

The Ontario Dept. of Education has come up with an idea for raking in a few extra dollars in these days of high education costs. The minister of education has announced he is considering a new plan for Ontario high schools to charge a five dollar deposit if they want to write Grade 13 exams. Failure to pass would automatically send the student back to high school, but the department's treasury. This should produce some strenuous reaction.

Uncle Tom's Cabin is ship-shape again . . . In fact it never had it so good. "Uncle Tom"—Tom Porter of Mount Horsh—had his pioneer home destroyed by fire over a year ago and it has since been replaced with a modern brick house. Just a week ago, the Porter clan—60 strong—surprised Tom with a silver-plated shower to help him replace the household goods he lost in the fire. Everyone is reported to have had a wonderful time, playing cards and dancing until the wee small hours. "Best of luck, Tom, and many happy years in your new home!" were the parting words of clan members. (Ed. Note: The name "Uncle Tom's Cabin" stuck with the Porters, and many happy years ago, some of the neighborhood young fry pointed a sign bearing the name and hung it on his fence.)

Kenneth M. Avery, assistant treasurer, Lions International, has written to say that the Lindsay Lions Club has instructed to send the Lindsay Daily Post on their mailing list for a one year subscription to LIONS LIONS magazine. A bit of the official decree in the direction of Lions generally and now for a spot of local news. . . Always liked reading about lions and things like that.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics came up with some wonderful news today. The cost of living has declined . . . three-tenths of a point. Between January and February. The bureau attributed the infinitesimal decline in food prices. Some of the joy which was felt at first faded when the news released the record that the cost of living was still away last year.

A number of people in Lindsay who have houses or apartments for rent say that the town needs more advertising about such as it is and needs more houses. "We can't rent or sell what we have," they say.

There's an unconfirmed report circulating to the effect that the former Sir Sam Hughes residence (now an apartment house) on Lindsay St. south of Glenah (north-west corner) is going to become the site of a new A & P store.

Hull Gregory of Radio Station CKLY has denied a report stating that the station has been sold. He admits that the report may become a reality in the foreseeable future.

Still on the subject of changes, the grand shuffle now taking place in the Greg-Mac Building and the building immediately north of it is being completed. It is in preparation for the demolition of the latter building. It was formerly occupied by the Ontario Dept. of Lands and Forests and now houses the City Library-Stop. According to the report, The Junior Library Shop will move into the space currently occupied by The Wright Smith Shop. The property is owned by Mr. H. H. Murray, around the corner to 45 Kent St. west. Laird Gamble, whose business was formerly located at that address has moved to William St. S.W.

Dunlop Tire and Rubber Co. Ltd. is reported to be interested in acquiring space in the Canadian Tire building plant but here again there is no confirmation.

A widely known Peterborough realtor is on record as saying the Lindsay is not ready for a shopping centre yet. . . He did, however, express the opinion that such a centre would likely take place when the town grew slightly more.

by-law to flouride the water without a referendum being necessary, but optional.

Connecting on this, Mayor Holton felt that flouridation was still a fairly new process and that people should have a chance to make up their own minds on the issue.

Horace Mortson

Horace Mortson, 72, passed away at his residence King St. West, Ontario, on February 16, following a long illness. The late Mr. Mortson came to Ontario with his wife and family during the early years of the war and was a valued employee for many years of the Leather company. He had previously resided in the Mount Albert vicinity.

Several years ago he suffered a severe stroke from which he became partially paralyzed.

He is survived by his wife the former Mary Emma King; three sons: Lloyd, of Oshawa, Parry of Mount Albert, and Elmer of Newmarket; and four daughters: Mrs. Garnet Kaulker (Alma), Mrs. Margaret Armstrong (Dore), Mrs. Garnet Burt (Bertha), of Newmarket. Funeral service was held from 10 to 11 a.m. at the Chapel in Mount Albert on February 22, and interment was in Queensville Cemetery.

No Canadians?

What is culture if a land is devastated? What is the pride of a country breeds no men? What is all the pride of race, we read if the lands they say they love, they don't defend? What greater culture can they name than freedom? What greater background than the courage of our men? What greater pride of race than we have proven? Our soldiers gave their lives, not for the friends, but rather to protect our weaker brothers.

Those cultures blinded them to common sense. Did not the world acclaim them as "Canadians"? On the battlefield they knew as ethnic race. Why then in times of peace, by lesser statements Must be told "you have no pride of race"? The rags and tags of any other country. May have you, as their own, we do not care; In times of war alone, you are Canadians.

In mourning our country's future forever. Your birthright, and traditions that you fought for, As did many of your forebears in this land. These did not fight to conquer just one Province, Confederation joined us, hand in hand. And we without our knowledge slowly growing into a federated state where many groups. Would have us change our very way of living. So many foreign cultures may take root! You have earned the right to call yourselves Canadian. It is yours, by birth, by state and by birth. Shall we, who call ourselves Canadian, accept the edict That we have no racial status on this earth?

County, province to sign new county forest agreement

Victoria County and the Province of Ontario will work together to maintain and develop the county forest for the next 20 years. This was agreed at the Tuesday session of county council.

County clerk Frank Weddon explained that a 30-year agreement was made in 1928 expired three years ago, and that since that time council had been trying to negotiate a renewal.

He said that a previous committee had gone over a proposed agreement offered by the province, but had been pulled over certain terms. A letter was sent asking that the terms be clarified, and Mr. Weddon read the reply letter to the meeting.

A motion that the agreement be signed and to become effective March 31st, was carried.

The county has been discussing the idea of buying a new car for about a year and has applied for tenders two or three times. The matter has been put off several times.

Delivery date of the new car is not yet known.

BELL LINES

By C. B. Symonds
Your Telephone
Manager

Ours is a truly Canadian enterprise. I was reminded of this fact while reading our 1980 Annual Report which was distributed to shareholders at the end of last month, and I thought it might make an interesting subject to discuss in BELL LINES. To start with, all our customers are, of course, located in Canada, principally in Ontario and Quebec. Our services also extend outside these two provinces to Goose Bay in Labrador and Frobisher Bay in Baffin Island in the far Northwest Territories. Thus you may ask, "Who owns The Bell Telephone Company of Canada?" Well, 97.3 per cent of our shareholders are residents of Canada, and many are citizens who live and work in communities like Lindsay. Although they number 166,627 — by far the largest body of share owners of any Canadian company. That is why we are proud to say we are a Canadian enterprise — a company owned and operated by Canadians.

Here's interesting news about a new service — free concealed telephone wiring for homes under construction. We are now ready to install multiwire cable through the studding to suitable locations in the house where telephone service may be required. We can only do this at the stage of construction after electrical wiring is completed and before walls and partitions are built. The house is built and the customer has chosen the location, or locations, for telephone service. Our installer will locate the hidden wire, install and inconspicuous outlet and connect the telephone, or telephones, with the wiring.

In Lindsay our installer Mr. Ron Bess is being trained to do this work as well as the other. The expert, we asked him about the new service. "It certainly fits right in with the plans of all extended outside lines to keep wiring hidden and at a price as low as many outlets as possible and inconspicuous locations," he said. "One attractive feature of the new service is the wall outlet, with a plastic faceplate. Yes, this new free service is a real boon to the home owner. More and more people now want additional phones in convenient locations such as kitchen or bedroom." For full information just call at FA-43501 and ask for Concealed Wiring Service.

THE MYSTERIOUS TROUBLE-MAKER
A telephone left off the hook has always been a worry to a people as it ties up our equipment and affects the telephone service of everyone in the community. The reason why a repairman was so concerned recently when he traced a case of trouble to a receiver off the hook at an extension telephone in a farm building. It bothered him because he was unable to figure out how it happened. It wasn't any of the animals or anyone around the farm. He replaced the receiver, but next day the same thing happened. This time the repairman entered the building in time to catch the culprit — a small raccoon — scurrying for cover. In case you're worried, the animal ended up as a family pet — but with better telephone manners.

Wedding

McArthur-Fredericks

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Peterborough, was the setting for the double ring wedding on Saturday, March 11 in which the Rev. A. J. Calder B.A. B.D. united Barbara Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harding T. Fredericks, of Peterborough, and Bruce James Lefroy McArthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce A. McArthur of Lindsay.

Guided by her father, the bride wore a short gown of American imported lace, with a capelet and a bowdoe rounded neckline. They sleeve, a bell-like skirt accented by a tuffet, cummerbund with large black bowdoe sash. She wore the groom's gift, a strand of cultured pearls, and a necklace of white violets centred on a large white rose. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses with stephanotis.

Seek higher grant

DeGroat asks if C of C prepared to investigate complaints, told "yes"

Councillor Mel DeGroat asked a representative from the Lindsay Chapter of Commerce Monday night, if it was part of the chapter's policy to investigate complaints about town business. He noted that last year the town contributed $1500 and asked that this be increased to $1925 in order to cover a predicted shortage.

The council agreed to have members of the chapter sit on a special judge committee to discuss the matter further.

Authorize $2,000 expenditure for 'phase one' planning

Lindsay's Council has authorized this expenditure of $2,000 this year for 'phase one of an overall plan of the annexed area, to be made by the consultant engineering firm of Marshall, Macklin and Menzies.

A letter from the planning board recommended that the plan be divided into two phases. Phase one would be a street and services layout, and would be done this year.

School children run the town? Pierce thinks might do better

Kevin Harry Pearce made a quiz at Monday night's Lindsay council meeting, pointing out the fact that school children might do a better job of running the town than the council.

A letter from the planning board recommended that the plan be divided into two phases. Phase one would be a street and services layout, and would be done this year.

"Why just Parkway School" someone asked.

"Why any school?" questioned Rev. Pearce. "Start referring everything to school children and we would probably do better."

Councillor Hunk supported him in his quiz.

Rev. Pearce, your thinking and my thinking agree," he said.

At the meeting, Rev. Pearce, who said that the naming is delayed was carried.

Albert Kline said: "As long as there are sovereign powers, it is inevitable."

Lindsay's council received Monday night's report from the city planning board, which is nearing low rental housing. The result was a sarcastic comment from Councillor DeGroat that he hoped the applicants would be dead when the houses were ready.

The letter from provincial authorities said that at council's request, a representative would meet with them and discuss the matter further. A motion to have a representative present was carried.

Canington (PNS) The members of Queen Mary Lodge mixed business with pleasure at last meeting, when the group leaders made a special effort to contact every member to invite them to a pot luck supper.

Regional farm finance school held in Lindsay

Closely 100 bankers and other finance experts gathered in the city of Lindsay, Ont., on Wednesday for a farm finance school. The seminar was under the direction of A. Robertson, Economics department of the Ontario Agricultural College.

At a noon luncheon, the school was addressed by the prominent dairy farmer from Beaverton. During his address he stressed the importance of the dairy farmer. Mr. McLaughlin argued in favour of the dairy farmer's position in the farming community.

He predicted that farm operations would become bigger and bigger. He said that bankers should closely examine their current policies on farm credit. He said that bankers should not be too tight on credit.

"How you (the bankers) provide credit to the farmer is the key to the success of the farmer," he said. "You will have as much effect on agriculture in the next 20 years as anything I can do," Mr. McLaughlin said.

Mr. McLaughlin said that the farmer should consider a credit application not just on the merits of the farm but on the merits of the farmer.

NOTHING ... along the way

Some interesting bits of news are often found in the classified advertising column of newspapers. Two such items are found in the current issue of The Globe & Mail.

Item No. 1 has to do with the need for a new high school principal to take charge at Fenelon Falls as of September 1st of this year. Interested by the Victoria County District High School Board, the successful applicant is promised a salary of $10,000 per year and he can earn up to a maximum of $12,000 under the terms of the present salary schedule. He would reach this maximum at the age of 55 years. In addition to this, the principal would also participate in a cumulative sick leave plan.

Did someone say something about the high cost of education? ...

Item No. 2 has to do with the needs of a weekly newspaper — the Watchman-Warrior — published at Lindsay. It was formerly owned by Lindsay interests but since taken over by outside capital. It is an advertisement seeking someone to sell advertising for the paper. Some changes being made?

Ed. Note: It has been learned since this article was written that Mr. J. A. Peter McRobb has resigned as president of the newspaper which also appears in The G. & M. Peter himself says he intends doing but you can't see him leave the town. The principal has promised to cut this paper on his plans for the future ...

Those who are in favour of floridising municipal water supplies might be interested in reading just this paragraph from a "Brief against fluoridation" prepared by The Rt. Hon. Lord Douglas of Birchmont, M. A., L.L.D., K.C.M.G. (quote paragraph 3 of his brief):

"Fluoridation is the use of fluorine in the form of normal forms of medical treatment as it is administered to a whole population, although from the most favourable assumption it can act only on a minority, it may, therefore, also differ from all normal forms of medical treatment in being administered without any medical examination of those on whom it is used, without regard to age or sex, without regard to health or infirmity." That's something to think about isn't it?

Talk of renovating and extending the present town hall in Lindsay serves as a reminder that the present structure contains "flouridation" in the form of fluorine. People interested in human welfare might desire to see some of the welfare of people who are forced to live on this water. The accommodation is not as experienced now, or because they have broken the law. Should police be obliged to confine a person to a cell blacked out with fluorine? Is this useful for human habitation even on a temporary basis? Perhaps the town's chairman of property may see fit to have this unsatisfactory arrangement altered.

NEW CIRCULATING PARKING

To circulate petition asking Lindsay Council to provide more parking

The merchants' committee of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce will take action to retain a portion of the parking revenue to develop more parking spaces. The committee was asked to vote to allow the council to use the parking revenue to fund the general account to keep the mill rate down.

Members of the merchants' committee, at a special meeting Thursday afternoon, decided to move quickly to try and prevent all of this money from being transferred. A petition will be circulated throughout the downtown shopping district which will ask council to hold half of all parking meter revenue for use in developing more parking facilities and also to request council to establish a parking authority.

Members of the committee also discussed the possibility of sending a letter to provincial authorities, to whom council must refer to transfer the funds. Such a letter would express their feeling on how the money might better be used, and the acute need for more parking space.

Meanwhile, a special sub-

Liberals open broadside attack

The Liberal opposition has opened its broadside attack on the Dienstberger government's unemployment policies.

Liberals leader Lester Pearson unleashed the opposition's long-awaited attack last week, charging the government was making what he called an ineffective, hesitant, delayed and piecemeal approach to the problem.

Pearson, who spoke in the Commons on the estimates of the Federal Labour Department, called for "something bold and imaginative" in the government's face of the 700-thousand Canadian or 11 per cent of the work force out of work in January.

The latest poll figures showed "The highest percentage of unemployment in this country for 20 years and higher than in any other industrialized country in the western world," the opposition leader said.

He said the government's policies to create unemployment were an "ineffective, hesitant and piecemeal approach." What was needed, he added, was "something worthy of the seriousness of the problem."—UPI.

THE HUMAN MIND AND BODY

By Peter J. Steinbohm, M.D. F.A.C.P.

STOP KILLING YOURSELF

I often hear patients say: "I went to one doctor who wrote a lot of prescriptions. I consulted another for the same condition and all he gave me was advice. He said I didn't need medicine. Where does that leave me?"

I can see how the layman would be confused by such contradictory advice. But remember there are many ways to combat disease. The method will depend on the experience of the individual doctor.

For example, here is a woman suffering from hot flashes and nervousness due to the menopause. Her doctor says: "I don't believe in prescribing hormone therapy. You will be better off fighting this out yourself."

Another says: "There's no need to suffer unnecessarily when a daily hormone pill will relieve you."

Another reader wonders who her doctor won't prescribe tranquilizers but instead relies on sedatives.

In his experience, he probably found that sedatives help a patient to suffer less. And as for myself I happen to agree with those doctors who say no reason why I should be uncomfortable during menopause.

I also think that the tried-and-true sedatives are often safe.

A picture to match the weather effective as the new tranquilizers—and incidentally, less expensive.

Don't keep looking over your shoulder to find out what treatment your friends are receiving from their doctors.

Place full confidence in your doctor. Don't think him old-fashioned simply because he prescribes aspirin instead of cortisone.

I respect the courage and good judgment of physicians who are not stampeded into using new-fangled drugs just because their patients expect them to be "up-to-date."

"Dear Dr. Steinbohm: You think you'll all the literature on cancer prevention is too scary?"—Mrs. E. N.Y.

Answer: Suppose you were walking along an unfamiliar path some dark night and suddenly someone shouted: "Stop! Don't take another step. You're on the edge of a cliff!"

This sudden warning would cause your heart to pound and you would stand there quivering in mortal fear.

Later, when you quiet down and your savour quakes and your nerves calm down, you would have graphic evidence of the danger.

Well, it's the same with cancer. You can get over a scare. The main thing is to be alert rather than cower from it.

Planning Board to recommend plan, zoning for annexed area

An overall plan, and official zoning of the newly annexed area at an estimated cost of $3,500 will be recommended to town council by the planning board.

The planning board voted in favour of recommending that the consultants' engineering firm of Marshall MacKinnon and Monaghan be retained to prepare such an overall plan.

It was further recommended that the work and cost be stretched over a two year period in two phases. Phase one would be a complete zoning by-law.

In spite of the fact that Opas had been received several months ago by Council and had been officially withdrawn from the board.

The "Post" also has a connection to make in connection with this matter. A story in this newspaper said that the Monaghan be retained to prepare such an overall plan.

See short-lived boom before 3% tax begins

Ontario business men believe the six-month delay in the application of Ontario's new sales tax will spark a short-lived boom.

Ontario last week became the eighth province to stop a sales tax on luxury goods. Treasurer James Allan revealed that the three-per-cent tax will be a direct across-the-counter levy and it will go into effect September 1. The tax is expected to yield 150-million dollars a year to the provincial government.

The sales tax is expected to push the demand for some popular goods as much as 10 per cent higher during the next six months.

McGill University Physical Education Director Robert Williamson said that the tax will be a direct across-the-counter levy and it will go into effect September 1. The tax is expected to yield 150-million dollars a year to the provincial government.

Two steam-powered trains coming to Lindsay in May; Water Board is co-operating While modern railway operations currently appear to be rapidly dying out in Lindsay, the city's old-fashioned steam locomotive traffic is on the increase. Along with an already scheduled trip by steam locomotive train on May 7th, another one is now scheduled for the following week - May 14th. The first is sponsored by the Don Valley Conservation Authority; the second by the Upper Canada Railway Society.

Lindsay's Board of Water Commissioners were advised of the railway society's planned excursion, and asked by the water facilities in Lindsay. The water facilities will have involved in the locomotive from a fire hydrant by fire hose. The reason is that the railway has already received its water facilities in Lindsay.

The water commission has decided to donate the water at a contribution to the occasion. The society's excursion will

NOTICED... along the way

Just when everybody was beginning to think, in terms of Easter Bonnets, the encouraging spring-like weather fled before a parting blizzard from winter. It rained, it sleeted, it snowed and it blizzed but did not put the finishing touches to an altogether disagreeable spell of weather when the temperature hit the skids and divided to zero and below throughout the district. The official low for the night at Lindsay was zero; at Haliburton it went to two below zero and at Godstheim, a really chilly 8 below. (Temperature courtesy Walter Kirk, Dept. of Lands and Forests, Lindsay.) Worst of it is, it isn't over yet. Today's sunny skies are scheduled to give way to overcast skies Saturday with some snow. There is just a touch of good news in the forecast, however - it's supposed to be a little bit milder.

Some people have all the luck and it sometimes seems as if it's all bad... Consider the case of the distraught husband in switch from usual distraught housewife. Noticing that the refrigerator door hadn't closed tightly he decided to give it a firm shove. This didn't do the trick, so he opened it to investigate the cause of the trouble and that's when his trouble really began... Kerash! The top shelf heavily laden with assorted milk, maple syrup, cake & ginger bread was up and made a somewhat unpleasant flight to the floor. The air was full of sound and fury as bottle slammed into bottle and milk began to flow. It happened in the promotional land only instead of honey it mingled with milked up. This in itself would have been bad enough but it didn't work out that way. The by-law frazzled husband was playing host to his mother and her suitcase happened to be dangerously close to the spreading fluid. Deciding to try and salvage something from the mess, he made a dive for the suitcase and smacked it out of the way... But as it all did smash... The suitcase had ideas of its own grand opening... Well, this development left the poor fellow standing there with a kind of wild look in his eyes, waving the empty suitcase and calling on his long-suffering ancestors to come to his rescue. But it's well that ends well, or so they say, and the lad was soothed back to relative sanity by his patient wife who also managed to clean up the mess as wives have a habit of doing. In an interview sometime later the husband blamed it all on the ideas of his March.

The Lindsay district is soon going to have something different in the way of housing. The Valley Builders who have successfully operated The Cottage Restaurant for several months, are reported to be planning on opening a "stick house" on Highway 35 south of Lindsay within the next couple of months. It is to feature "drive-in" facilities as well as a downstairs restaurant with accommodation for 60 hungry stomachs.

Finally, the story is told of an egg which is all broken up today. It seems some practical joker slipped it into the pocket of an unsuspecting acquaintance who was unaware of the presence until he rammed his hand in his pocket for his Cliff... Poor egg!

Cliff Golden of the stationery and gift shop bearing his name is all worked up over the changes being made in telephone numbers around town. The changes are putting him to quite a lot of trouble but he thinks he has come up with the solution to his main problem - that of carrying these numbers in his mind. He has used those neat little metal telephone number indexes. "I didn't know on a lot of number changes at the time," says Cliff, "but just about now... Don't be surprised to see an unusually large number of gents decorated into traditional green ties this year. Now, where in the world did old gents deny go? This is an occasion

Find newspapers in contempt, fines totalling $3,000 levied

Cochrane, March 10-(UPI)—Two Northern Ontario newspapers were found in contempt of court yesterday in Cochrane, Ontario, for their non-coverage of the arrest of miner Owen Feener.

Feener, a 25-year-old blond giant, was sentenced yesterday to hang June 13th for the slaying of 25-year-old Kay Chouinard of Timmins last October 5th.

The Timmins Daily Press, represented by its lawyer C. H. McPherson, was fined 25 hundred dollars and Kirkland Lake Northern News, represented by Editor Thomas O'Doughlin, was fined 500 dollars. In addition each newspaper was ordered to sell newspapers as assessed 200 dollars court costs. Feener's counsel, Hugh Leach, contended that pictures and stories carried by the two papers were detrimental to his client.

He said they pictured Feener as a "fiar," a wife despoiler, a sex-mad murderer, a thief and a man wanted by many police departments.

Mr. Leach's counsel, McPherson commented: "A jealous guard must be maintained of the press that serves the public. It is innocent until proven guilty." He said a trespass on the rights of individuals appearing before the court must be considered more important than

The people write

For the birds—but not really

Hanover, Mar. 19 (UPI)—The Lindsay Post, Lindsay, Ont., has been told that the 1959 billion dollar deficit will ever be repaid.

Some taxpayers have never had it better than right now. The deficit is the cause of the 1959 billion dollar deficit will ever be repaid.

A deficit calls for the budget of government bonds to the public—to offset the tax cut and adds a heavy interest burden.

Cycle budgeting is for the birds. It will probably work only one time (the under-taxation) because the wants of the Canadian people are too numerous for the transaction to be completed. Aren't we being generous in suggesting that future governments budget for a surplus in better times, when which calls for the wearin' o' the green!

Some anonymous notes are interesting to read... A letter received in the Lindsay Post from a reader who has been reading the following quotation: GOOD WILL... "Good will, a good name, is won by many means and by one."

The Dictionary of Good Thoughts attributes this quotation to a man named Saville: "The sight of a drunkard is a better sermon against vice than the best that was ever preached in that subject."

Say, what a wonderful thing this St. Patrick's Day really is. It can be a pleasant time for the spirit of the Irish, they can also enjoy a cup of tea and a bit to eat. The Irish eye just happened to meet this while reading "The Post's" Local and Community Events column. There it is in black and white: St. Patrick's Day Tea at Convent on March 17th...

Home cooking, candy and draw... That's about all that's left of the celebration of the people who begin to water at the very mention of food. Nothing like some good Irish homecoming to top off the celebration of the occasion. It's now over. Come early and bring a basket!

It begins to look as though it must be concluded that there are no well-located, large or oil-heated houses to rent in Lindsay? After reading that someone who allegedly had houses to rent in Lindsay, there are oil-heated homes and prepared to pay a good rent...

There was a story stepped up to accept the challenge.

METHOD OF COOKING EGGS PREVENTS DISCOLORATION

When eggs are cooked in the shell, a greenish-black discoloration sometimes appears on the surface of the yolk. This is the result of the formation of ferrous sulfide according to the Food and Nutrition Department, Macdonald Institute, Guelph. The substance is harmless, however, and affects only the appearance of the egg.

The amount of discoloration depends on the time and temperature used in cooking. Eggs cooked for 30 minutes in water at 185 degrees in 195 degrees F, followed by rapid cooling in cold water, should show little discoloration.

The business establishments are situated on an island in the village. The island is crown land, and apparently the government's plans to make a one million dollar improvement on the locks exist here.

Mr. Lyons felt that if he had to vacate, he would not start up in the village elsewhere, nor is it likely the other two would.

The village will lose three about cash-paying businesses," he said. "I don't see where the village will benefit financially."

Smokers have been given something else to think about besides the possibility of contracting lung cancer if they smoke long and hard enough. . . . cigarettes, that is. Dr. Linus Pauling, 1960 winner of the Nobel Prize in Chemistry, has told 1,300 students at Toronto that "triple the time spent smoking cigarettes will be subtracted from the average smoker's lifespan." He also said that "one pack of cigarettes a day will shorten a man's life by eight years and the probability of death by two packs per day likely cut 10 years from his life."

"There is no doubt of this," the scientist declared. He made one other significant comparison of the hazards of life. . . . "Auto deaths of this," the scientist declared, are one-fifth as great as smoking. . . . This seems to leave but two choices. . . . smoke or don't smoke, a decision which probably will be determined on the basis of the individual's love of the smoking game."

Good Friday will be the closing day for the members of the 401 Lindsay Boy Scout Troop. The boys will leave Lindsay around 5:30 a.m. by Algar Coach Lines for Cornwall where they will remain until Sunday.

While in Cornwall they will stay at the Hotel Cornwall and will tour government. . . . Visit Pioneer Park across the U. S. border and attend church Easter Sunday morning.

A new record has been set on the unemployment front across the nation. . . . A post-war record of 710-thousand people were unemployed at mid-February, the Bureau of Statistics reported today. The total - 11-point triple of the labor force - was 26-thousand higher than the record set a month earlier and 120-thousand higher than February last year. In the Commons last night, Liberal members accused the government of holding back the figures until the unemployment debate was ended.

Ted Jackson's auctioneering grossed $7,405. A fair crowd attended, including several women.

Community Concerts Association holds kick-off campaign

The Executive and volunteer staff of the Community Concerts Association held their annual campaign kick-off meeting at the Anglican Church in Fennell Park, Monday night.

This was a well-attended meeting that expressed the full confidence of all people that once again in 1961 and 1962 there would be a complete sell-out.

The membership campaign is to last for a week and headquarters will be at Simpson's Store, Kent Street.

One of the highlights of the meeting Monday night was the program of the three winners in the poster campaign, which was incorporated into the art program. Central our lives and just how good it can do.

The atmosphere of the meeting was expressed by the quiet confidence of worthwhile work in a community and the executive feels it is a foregone conclusion that the membership once again will be at peak.

It was observed, that there had been waiting lists for Community Concerts and in order to make more of your tickets apply now to headquarters."

O-Cedar complements fashions in wool

O-Cedar "ZOOM-A-LON" plus solution on soft linens makes them clean light hearted knowing that they are as new as the day they were made.

Great news in dust mops!

ZOOM-A-LON is the modern mop... a mop that can't melt or bat no matter how often you use it on wet wash... a mop with magnetic elastic action that actually attracts the dust, then shakes it like a flick of the wrist.

Next time you shop for an O-Cedar mop ask for ZOOM-A-LON... it's the miracle fibre that picks up all the fine particles left behind by ordinary mops.

Everlasting Welcome

Banquet held to honor newly-elected Warden

Blackstock (PNS)—The Recreation Centre, Lindsay celebrated with shawerred green candles and daffodils was the scene of the banquet to honour Mr. Bruce Ashton, recently elected Warden of the United counties of Durham and Northumberland. The O. N. O. club served a beautiful dinner to about 250 guests.

The tables were gay in shawerred green runners, place cards and serviettes, emphasizing the St. Patrick side of the celebration.

Mrs. Lorne Thompson was pianist for the evening and after singing carols and "The Queen" all enjoyed the dinner. Mr. Lawrence Malcolm led in a sing song of well-known Irish songs. Mrs. L. Malcolm sang two Irish melodies.

Deputy-reve Bert Gibson introduced the head table guests. Mr. Anson Gervow, Warden of Ontario County and Mrs. Gervow, Scugog Island; Hon. Dr. M. B. Diamond, Minister of Health for Ontario; Mr. W. Caruthers M. P. P., Bowmanville; Warden Bruce Ashton and Mrs. Ashton, also M.P. for the United Counties. Honorable Wm. Goodfellow, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario and Mrs. Goodfellow; Rev. and Mrs. Ramer, Blackstock.

stock; Deputy Reeve Bert Gibson and Mrs. Gibson.

Mr. Robert Carlaw, Reeve in Northumberland County proposed a toast to the Parliament.

Dr. Vivian replied. Mr. Garnet Rickard, Reeve of Darlington in his usual humorous manner proposed a toast to the United counties, and gave a short sketch of the history of the counties of Durham and Northumberland. He also paid tribute to Warden Ashton and the Ashton family who were raised and educated in Darlington Township.

Mr. Ashton replied and spoke of the ten years he has served in township and county councils as being both interesting and educational. He thanked the county council for appointing him warden. He introduced his family, Larry, Doris and Dennis. He presented the 1961 council, Mr. Merrill Van Camp and Mrs. Van Camp, Mr. Lawrence Malcolm and Mrs. Malcolm, Mr. John Hamilton and Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. Bert Gibson and Mrs. Gibson, Township Clerk, Victor Malcolm and Mrs. Malcolm, Road Supt. Merlin Suggett and Mrs. Suggett.

Deputy Reeve Bert Gibson spoke words of praise for the Warden as township official. Ex-Warden Lloyd Hooton proposed a toast to the new members of council and Douglas McEachern responded. Mr. Ivan Hobbs, Bowmanville, offered a toast to the ladies when he said should share the honour of their husbands success. Mrs. Geo. Dean replied.

Rev. Ramer in offering a toast to "our guests" spoke of the sense of community spirit in the township, also of loyalty and kindness.

Mr. Gervow, Dr. Diamond, Mr. Caruthers, Hon. Goodfellow and Mr. Crighton Devitt all gave short speeches. Mr. Devitt is an ex-reve who spent 20 years in Township and county councils.

Merrill Van Camp thanked the O.N.O. club for their efficient service and Jessie Gervow replied.

"The Pulse" of London provided half an hour of entertainment and the "Blue Diamond Orchestra," Lindsay supplied music for dancing. The Ashton family presented Bruce Ashton with a silver ring.

Woodville boy one of two travelling scholarship winners

(By LeRoy G. Brown
Ag. Rep. Victoria County)
Early in January the Honourable W. A. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Agriculture, will again sponsor two young men and two young women, representing the Junior Farmer's Association of Ontario, and a leader, on Travelling Scholarships to Great Britain and Northern Ireland early this summer. Each county and district in the province was asked to nominate an outstanding Junior Farmer member for this trip and last Saturday at the Junior Farmer Conference at Glouph the names of the four Junior Farmers were selected were announced. I am happy to say that Gordon Murray of Woodville was one of the winners.

GORDON MURRAY

Gordon, who lives with his father and mother on the home farm at Woodville, will assist in the operation of this large farm, has been a valuable community leader in many ways. He attended public and continuation school at Woodville and since that time has taken five winter short courses at the Ontario Agricultural College. He is an active member of the United Church in Woodville and has sung in the church choir since he was ten years of age, and a year ago was appointed as leader of this fine church choir. He has held many offices in the Young People's Union in the church, having served as consultant, Secretary, Vice-President and President as well as having held office in the Presbytery Organization. He has contributed also as a leader of a group of boys called "Tyro".

TWO PEOPLE BURNED TO DEATH

Two persons are said to have burned to death in a car last night when several bombs exploded in a fashionable section of Havana. At the same time, it was announced that the pro-Castro union of private school teachers has petitioned for the institutions to be converted into "cooperative schools." The union represents more than half of the private school teachers in Cuba.

CLASH BRIEFLY

A Republic of Korea police clash briefly today with some 15-hundred demonstrators who marched through the streets of Seoul. The demonstrators shouted for the overthrow of the government of President John Chang. The most serious clash, in which sticks and stones were hurled, came near the National Assembly building.

LATE TODAY OR EARLY TOMORROW

A jury is expected to get the murder case of Dr.
Bernard Finch and Carlo Tregg in Los Angeles late today or early tomorrow. They are charged with the murder of Mrs. Finch in July, 1958. Two earlier trials ended with hung juries.

1200 WORKERS GO ON STRIKE

More than 12-hundred shipyard workers in Halifax and Dartmouth went on strike today. The men are seeking a 13-cent-an-hour increase for the first year of their contract and a further eight-cent increase for 1961. The walkout will hit construction of a navy destroyer escort and a ferry designed for the Prince Edward Island—New Brunswick run.

HELPS CREWS

Heavy rains over the Atlantic Provinces are helping crews digging out after one of the worst storms of the winter. The storm is reported to have lashed in at more than 100 mph off Newfoundland. Parts of Cape Breton, Prince Edward Island and eastern Newfoundland were cut off by more than a foot of snow-whipped by pale force winds into gale-force drifts.

WALKS BAREFOOT FOR SEVEN MILES

A 35-year-old mother walked barefoot for seven miles in near-freezing weather last night after a fire killed her husband and three children. Mrs. Josephine Drake is in Sioux Lookout, Ontario, hospital suffering from shock and exposure. She told police her husband went back into their one-room log cabin in search of

Add Fruit To Curriculum
Recently added to the Home making Club's programme

It is several years since a new fruit club has been introduced to 4-H Homemaking Club members, clothing units, which also take, having been added recently. "Featuring Fruit" has been launched as the result of repeated requests for a project on fruit to be added to the unit.

One purpose of the new project on fruit is to create an awareness of the value of fruit in particular. Girls will thus learn to buy and use more fruit and to appreciate the value of fresh fruit in season but canned and frozen fruit will also be used. The new project is being carried out by the 4-H Homemaking Club members who will be working on the new project in the coming year. Several residents in the vicinity were startled early Monday when a loud explosion was heard. The explosion was heard from a gas unit at Kent Kitchens, located, setting up a roar to do. One of Cive spots selected

Lindsay is one of the five Ontario towns chosen for a study to determine the land use and individual purposes in the urban, suburban and rural land indirectly affected by urban growth. The four other places are Marston, London, Kingston and Stratford.

These five places were chosen by the Conservation Council of Ontario for an experimental study of the impact of urban growth on natural resources and wildlife. After the study is made, findings will be compared in an attempt to establish a relationship between the size of the community, and the direct and indirect effects of its growth on the surrounding land.

Officials at the Department of Lands and Forests in Lindsay said they are aware of the nature of the Conservation Council of Ontario's work, but are not as the study which will be conducted in Lindsay is considered.

United Press International

The United States and its seven allies in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization have issued a policy declaration following a crucial three-day meeting in Bangkok, Thailand. The resolution promises what is termed "appropriate" aid to Laos to prevent a communist takeover. The resolutions had unanimous approval, says a U.S. official.

VITAL ELEMENT ABSENT

A vital element of the U-S position—joint military intervention—is absent from the closing statement. The wording apparently is a compromise with France which opposes the U-S position. U-S Secretary of State Dean Rusk says the meeting has "reaffirmed our policy." However the French Foreign Minister stated that—in his words—"military intervention has never been a political problem."

BEGIN SECOND DAY

The top leaders of the Communist world have begun the second day of a secret policy-making conference in the Kremlin. There still is no reply to a Western cease-fire proposal on Laos. The only news that has reached Western newsmen in Moscow is that Premier Khrushchev made the opening speech.

DAMPEN FIGHTING

Heavy rains several weeks before the Moscow session apparently have dampened the fighting in Laos' civil war. The rain and mist have grounded U-S supplied cargo planes and helicopters serving the government forces. The primitive jungle roads are turning into quagmires.

28 MILES UP

The goal will be 28 miles up when test pilot Joe Walker boards the X-15 rocket ship ahead record. He will try to set an unofficial world altitude record. During the flight from Edwards Air Force Base, California, he may experience 30 seconds of weightlessness. The X-15 holds the unofficial world altitude mark of almost 117,000 feet.

BLASTS RADIO COMMENTATOR

Premier Castro has blasted a radio commentator who once was considered a neutral force. Castro called Jose Pardo Linds, who defected to Mexico City recently, a "complete rat for whom I never felt any kind of friendship." Linds said in Mexico City he turned against the Castro regime as a protest against its anti-church campaign.

VOTE EXPECTED

A vote is expected in the Commons today on whether Canada should withdraw from N-A-T-O. But C-CP leader Hargrave says it is not likely to get any support from outside the Socialist camp. Last night the Conservatives thumped their desks in applause when Liberal leader Lester B. Pearson said N-A-T-O should be strengthened, not split up.

FIRST HAND INFORMATION

Defense Minister Douglas Harkness will get first hand information today on the U-S-Bomarc missile. Harkness and his party are at Cape Canaveral rocket testing base this morning and will move on to the Nike Air Force base in Florida, where Bomarc are tested. Canada decided last year—in a controversial move—to buy the Bomarc anti-aircraft missile rather than continue producing manned interceptors.

REQUESTS MADE

Requests have been made to the Federal Government to continue the search for 17 children missing from the Nova Scotia town of Lockport. Mayor L. M. Hunkeler said residents believe one of the three druggies lost in a storm more than a week ago is still alive. New Brunswick Premier Louis Robichaud has offered material help for some 50 children whose fathers are missing.

WARRANT WILL NOT BE SERVED

Toronto police have decided against adding to playwright Brendan Behan's troubles. Deputy Chief R. R. Kerry said yesterday that the warrant for the arrest of the hard-drinking Irishman—on a non-appearance charge—will not be served until Behan is released from a Toronto private hospital. Behan's physician Dr. David K. Pratt says the playwright is a "very sick man."

FOREST ADDITION FORESEEN 5 YEARS

County contemplating chronic wing?

The need for still another addition to the Ross Memorial Hospital in four or five years has been predicted by a majority of the Board of Governors at the regular meeting Thursday night.

Chairman Hedgen said, "I expect no bones about it. I expect you'll see the hospital as it is today, now wing in four or five years."

"There was no comment from the other members on his remark. The matter was mentioned when Mr. Hodgson, Chairman of Property Committee, was reporting on the parking situation. He suggested that one lot to the west side be gravelled, but not paved, as it was there he felt a new wing might be located.

Further mention of possible further expansion was made by R. Carow, who was acting as chairman in the absence of E. N. Gregory.

Mr. Carow said he has heard rumors that the County might be contemplating building a chronic wing and asked Max Kennedy if he could confirm this.

"Frank Weldon has suggested at times," said Mr. Kennedy, "but it has never been discussed as far as the County Council is concerned."

Own Sweetman also said that to his knowledge, the County has never discussed the matter.

Box Social

Dauxford (PNS) — The members of the C. G. U. held a very successful St. Patrick's box social in the Ontario Church hall.

The evening's entertainment was progressive crokinole. The prizes went to Madeline Threlkeld for highest score and Miss Janice Robb for second lowest. Lucky door prizes to Mrs. Threlkeld.

Later community singing was enjoyed by all, numbers were from the C.G.U. chorus book and led by Mrs. Bill Thurston and Irish songs led by Rev. J. Griffith with Mrs. Henderson as piano.

Mr. Ernest Burgess acted as Irish ed off the very pretty Irish dances made by the ladies. A good crowd attended and everyone enjoyed the evening.

The proceeds of the evening were around $50.00 are going to help refugee children, this being the first project for the year.

RMH fire drill recommendation expected shortly

Ross Memorial Hospital Administration and Fire Protection Board of the County of Governors that he expects a recommendation for fire drills to be made at the next board meeting.

In his report to the regular meeting of the board Thursday night he said that fire regulations and drill procedure are being studied.

It is most imperative that this work be completed with the utmost haste and will be placed before the members during the meeting, he mentioned that fire chief Mr. Harrison was making the arrangements for a test run with the town's aerial ladder.

The project is to be held, to do without anyone or the townswomen or the firefighters.

CHIEF MAY STAGE SUNDAY SHOW

Toronto—UPI—The Canadian National Exhibition's grandstand show may be staged for Sunday visitors in the first year of the first time this year.

Boy darts from sidewalk, injured by passing car

A young Lindsay boy has been returned to his home after being struck by a car Wednesday.

Police say seven-year-old Glen Lytle suffered a fractured collar bone when he was hit by a car at 4:40 p.m. on Cambridge Street south of west X-ave. There is a green brick building at the Union Bus Terminal. The boy is identified as 20-year-old Lytle, a slight cut on the left Street east.

The Lytle boy is the son of Mr. Reginald Lytle.

Witness alleges former mayor of North Bay threatened him

North Bay, Ont.—UPI—A boy implicate my son in their North Bay, Ontario man told matter, I'll have the boy thrown a you."

Hatchell told the court yesterday that he was threatened by the city's mayor, Mr. Merrie Dickson. Frank Hatchell was testifying at the trial of the former mayor's son—Claude Dickson—Harvey Clark and Danley.

He told the court that Merrie Dickson had threatened "if for lack of evidence."

Lab staff commended

Lindsay's Ross Memorial hospital is one of several involved in a special survey now being jointly undertaken by the federal Department of Health and the Ontario Hospital Services Commission. This was contained in the report of the Department of Health which inspected the work being done by our laboratory."

Governors Thursday night. Mr. Freeborn also said that congratulations were for the hospital's laboratory personnel who have just been commended by representatives of the Department of Health who inspected the work being done by our laboratory."

NOTICED ... along the way

Good neighbors are nice to have around when trouble strikes. ... At least that's the way Mr. and Mrs. John Delong and their family live in the wake of a fire which destroyed their home and their personal belongings.

When their neighbors went to their aid, they went all out, as Mr. Delong puts it: "Thanks to the ones who so generously helped us, we're living in our new home."

"We can never find words to express our appreciation for the kindness shown to us."

"This might be a good place to insert a bit of verse which came this way the other day. It is entitled "Comfort One Another" and reads like this:

Comfort one another
For the way is often dreary
And the feet are often weary
And the heart is very sad
There is a heavy burden-bearing
When it seems that none are caring
We can never find words to express our appreciation

Comfort one another
With a handclasp close and tender
And the looks of friendly eyes
Do wait with grace unspoken
While life's bread is broken
Gentle speech is oft like manna from the skies

— Author unknown

Central Ontario, which includes Victoria, Haliburton and Ottawa counties, raised $25,859 for the 1961 "March of Dimes" campaign, 8873 less than in 1960. This was announced by The Rehabilitation Foundation in a letter of appreciation for the co-operation of area residents for support.

Lindsay is one of only three centres in Ontario to have a Dept. of Lands and Forests action book of seized fishing tackle this spring. The Lindsay district forestry report announced that the action book at Lindsay, included in the list will be rods, reels, tackle boxes, landing nets, outboard motors and some miscellaneous articles. Viewing of the motor and boat are auctioned commencing April 8th and will be continued for the two afternoons and one morning preceding the sale.

There is an interesting proverb in the day's mail. ... It reads:

"A wise old owl lived in an oak.
The more he saw the less he spoke,
The less he spoke the more he saw.
Why wasn't he wise old owl?"

He must have heard somewhere that "a still tongue is a wise head."

Spoken on the municipal financial front at Lindsay is that the town's 1961 budget will not allow a reduction in the mill rate even though the estimated increased last year. Deferrals of the mill rate include an operating deficit of $41,000 in 1960 which, as Mayor Holm pointed

A uniform rate there is no difference to be shenanigans. Also in fairness to those who derive their income from other sources, we will be happy to accept cash payments in full for the year.

By giving in such income with regular income the capital gain, would be extra and take the taxpayer's utmost rate of tax.

I had my 50% would be the maximum rate as capital gains and other kinds of income not getting a tax credit because the total percentage tax collected is quite a some—around 40%.

Any reasonable expense would be deductible in figuring the profit on a sale, but would be no recovery of undistributed capital losses. Speculators who go hog-wild and are not allowed to lose the tax. This way would be a device to pay excellent to best the tax. The tax collector might be taking in out horses (dead or alive) at their former peak prices.

It can't be unadvised that we are living in a time of change and creeping inflation. If it is advisable to switch stocks or property some allowance should be made for increased prices.

I'd replace the stock and propose that when a sale made a very increment of 25% or 30% for the length of time he added to the purchase price for tax purposes. Going back years and years and a 50% reduction which approximates the inflationary increase in the cost-of-living index adopted in 1913.

Yours truly,
John Gilbert.

STOP KILLING YOURSELF

By Peter J. Stencinich, M.D. F. A. C. P.

STRESS
Dear Dr. Stencinich: I am 27 years old. I have hung in the church choir since I was 14. Last Spring, I began losing my voice. A specialist, said the cause of the loss of the voice was my vocal chords. He is not a doctor. The doctor said, but says there is no guarantee that they will not return in time. He said, "I have them out."

HORMONES AFTER HYSTERECTOMY
Dear Dr. Stencinich: I have a complete hysterectomy. I had a year and a half ago. So far I have not received any medical treatment except nerve pills.

Trunk
Trunk, they may return, but most patients have no further trouble.

BASAL METABOLISM
Dear Dr. Stencinich: What kinds of tests are used to determine basal metabolism? Are they painful? Miss A., Indiana

Answer: You have what is commonly known as niper's nodes or public speaking nodes. Some people's vocal chords can't take the added burden of strain. These nodules form.

Practical treatment
Practical treatment will have them out. Your doctor will put a light tube down to the voice box and carefully remove the nodules.

At the time the facilities were installed, they cost the Hydro $50,978 plus an additional $565.76, for a total of $51,543.76. Hydro manager J. Lightfoot says the Lindsay Hydro Commission is being granted $7,835 of the price for depreciation.

In the present time, residents in the annexed area are still paying roughly one-third the rate of the rest of the town and there have been several complaints.

The Hydro Commission felt that buying Ontario Hydro's lines would be the fastest and least costly way to get all town residents on the local hydro system.

Mayor Holton told "The Post" that the Hydro Commission is being granted $7,835 of the price for depreciation.

The bank robbery climaxed a long series of break-ins and thefts in Bathurst.
